

REPORT LISTS $1,565,000 FOR COUNTY ROADS

Extensive State Highway Program Urged for Territory Near Marion

FEDERATION SURVEY

Organization Urges Immediate Start of Work Covering Six-Year Period

An expenditure of $1,565,000 for reconstruction and extension of Marion county state roads is the report prepared by the Ohio Good Roads Federation. The report is a recommendation made by the federation for the expenditure of $1,565,000 on Ohio roads over a six-year period.

The federation urges the state to immediately begin the program, and that within six years there be 2,000 automobiles in the state and that present road facilities be so inadequate to meet the needs of the state.

Program for County

The federation proposes the construction of 1,500 miles of new roads in Marion county. The roads would be built at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. There is also a proposal for the reconstruction of 1,130 miles of roads of which 152 miles would be in this county. Reconstruction work in the county would be done at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. Nearly 10 miles of Marion county roads could be widened out of the 1,500 miles included in the reconstruction. Widening of local roads would cost $300,000 more. The federation estimates that $225,000 should be spent in replacing narrow bridges and building new ones in the county.

Widening Project

In Marion county the federation recommends widening of the Harding highway from Big Island to the Marion county line and reconstruction of this road from Big Island to Marion. To the east it is recommended to reconstruct the road to the junction of the old and new roads and from there to the Morrow road line.

Reconstruction of the Marion-Tipton road from Marion to the Marion county line and of the old and new roads to the Marion county line are other Marion county projects in the program. The only other recommendation is the reconstruction of the new road leading from the Harding highway to the junction of the old and new roads.

"Trot" Specified as Speed Limit in First Marion Traffic Code, Old Record Shows

Municipal Laws of Years Gone By Provide Entertaining Study

By JAMES L. RENICK
Marion Star Staff Writer

BACK in the days when Marion was but a pup, so to speak, there gathered together a body of wise and far-seeing men to draw up a code of laws to govern the village.

Like the Roman lawmakers of old, these men pondered long and hard over the problems which confronted them. Dipping a quill into ink these scribes started on their task.

Delving into the archives at the city building one is able to find the product of these long sessions. Many of the laws and ordinances have been repealed.

some by action of later councils and some by state laws.

The first records available are dated Aug. 1, 1847, in which the city officers were created.

Old Time Speed Limit

Possibly one of the most drastic laws that affected the most persons was the ordinance calling for a $5 to $20 fine for driving any horse, mare, gelding or rube faster than an ordinary trot through the village.

The passage of this drastic measure was necessitated by the persistence of the "younger set" to race through the village. This ordinance was passed on Aug. 7, 1852, right in the spring of the year when racing was at its best. How many matches since this ordinance spoiled is not known.

Following this a few years later another ordinance was passed to curb the reckless bicycle riders from speeding through the streets. An eight-mile per hour speed limit was adopted with orders being issued to the marshal to enforce the law to the limit.

Momentous Session

Council was exceedingly busy on the night of Aug. 7, 1852. Besides passing the ordinance that prohibited racing through the streets, the body passed another law that probably created a great outcry from the citizens.

It was declared unlawful and punishable by a fine of $1 for any person to let a swine run loose in town.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE COMING, IS FORECAST

Mercury Drop Scheduled To Follow Rain Today and Friday

TRAFFIC DISRUPTED

Slippery Roads and Rails Hold Up Buses and Trains

All kinds of weather—and how! Marion citizens need not be told that a wide variety of weather has been afflicted upon them in the last three days. But it isn't enough to broadcast that there are in for the "cold wave" part today, tonight and Friday.

The official weather forecast reads: "Rain today, tonight and Friday and much colder Friday night."

The "cold wave" complex consists of the most weather, namely slush and rain, which will erode most of the snow and get things in perfectly splendid shape for a nice freeze Friday night.

Numerous Accidents

Accidents which sent a pall of tragedy over the generally enjoyed snowfall, were reported throughout the state.

One workman was killed in a plane crash near Toledo, due to poor visibility.

Nine persons were slightly injured in Cincinnati when the brakes of a street car failed to hold and the car ran wild down a steep covered hill.

A child was injured to death near Newark. Six firemen were hurt and two overcome by smoke in Cleveland.

Persons who mutter to themselves, "I saw down," are innumerable.

Traffic Disrupted

A trailer jumping the track near Prospect caused a delay in interurban service in and out of the city this morning. Ice on the track caused the accident. Practically all trains are arriving at the Union station behind schedule.

Buses running into Marion were generally late, owing to slippery roads, arriving anywhere from one to two hours late.

Although automobile driving was difficult and dangerous last night and today, no serious accidents were reported.

Sets Factory Record

Christopher Fies, 84, Ranked as Oldest Active Marion Shop Employee, with Huber Co. 57 Years

FIFTY-SEVEN years at the same work and he still likes it.

That's the record set by Christopher Fies, 84-year-old wood-worker believed to be Marion's oldest active factory employe. Mr. Fies is on the job every day of the week excepting Saturdays and Sundays and does a full day's work each time he reports for duty.

Mr. Fies, whose home is at 115 John st., started work with the Huber Manufacturing Co. when the Huber-Glenn Co. in April 1872, when the company was located on the north side of the railroad between State and Main streets. He has not changed employers since that time. The building, two stories high, had been formerly used as a school house and also for church purposes. Edward Huber and Lewis Glenn were the heads of the company.

With Original Force

When Mr. Fies started work he was employed in the planing mill of the company. At that time the production was mainly wood work, the company specializing in rakes and farm implements that required little from work. The rakes were distributed all over the western states and the company enjoyed a good business in the mid-western section of the country.

Between 35 and 40 men were employed in the original force.

Freight Strikes Section Crew Walking Along Tracks Near Middletown

THINK FOG BLAMED

Leader of Men Jumps and Escapes with Loss of Shoe's Heel

MIDDLETOWN, Jan. 17.—Plowing through nine men, members of a section crew, who were walking along the track, A. D. & O. freight train killed two, fatally injured another, and seriously hurt three others, at Middletown, near here, at 7:45 o'clock this morning.

Hayley Dill, who was in the lead of the crew, escaped with the loss of the heel from one shoe. He saw the freight train in time to jump. He said the fog was so thick the rest of the men did not see the locomotive until they were hit.

Clarence Keener, 20, of Camden, O., was instantly killed, as was one unidentified man. Zonia Haver, 20, of Potosi, died in a hospital.

Three workers who were hurt, but may recover are Otto Houshelt, Hager Telly and Ralph Downing, all of Middletown.

NEW REMEDIES FOR WAR SENT TO CONGRESS

Ratification of Kellogg Treaty Brings Deluge of Peace Plans

HOUSE PLANS HEARINGS

Resolution Introduced To Prevent Shipment of Arms from U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Congress was faced today with the prospect of a deluge of "peace fire" remedies for war in the wake of the ratification of the Kellogg multilateral peace treaty.

Instead of halting the activities of extreme advocates of peace for the time being the Kellogg treaty ratification apparently set in motion a new fight for the enactment of measures which congress has frowned upon in the past.

The new proposals, all described as logical sequences of the Kellogg treaty, ranged from plans to "starve war" by prohibiting shipments of arms to warring nations to the holding of an election before the United States can go to war.

Sanctions Movement

The movement in the house received the sanction of Representative Stephen Porter, Republican of Pennsylvania, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, who probably will call public hearings in the near future.

"When the multilateral treaty has been ratified," he said.

KELLOGG PACT APPROVED AS COOLIDGE SIGNS

High Government Officials Watch President Attach Signature

COMPLETE NEGOTIATIONS

56 Nations Have Agreed on Principles of Paris Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In a ceremony unusual in American history, President Coolidge today affixed his signature to the Kellogg-Briand multilateral peace treaty.

With members of the cabinet, the senate and other high government officials grouped about him in the east room of the White House, President Coolidge attached his name to the document with a bold stroke of his pen at 10:10 a. m. Thus was completed the negotiations initiated by Secretary of State Kellogg in Paris last summer when 15 of the world's powers signed the treaty to renounce war as a matter of national policy.

Besides the 15 original signatories, 41 other nations have agreed to adhere to the pact of Paris.

The east room, scene of many famous gatherings, has witnessed few more impressive ceremonies than today.

President Coolidge sat before the oil cabinet table which had been used from John Adams' time until the renovation of the White House during the Roosevelt administration. Seated on either side of Mr. Coolidge were Secretary of State Kellogg, Vice President Dawes and the White House naval and military aides.

Standing in the place of honor just back of the president were Senators Charles McNary, Republican of Idaho, Curtis, Republican of Kansas, Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas and Stevenson, Democrat of Virginia, the leaders in the treaty fight at the capitol.

APPOINTMENTS MADE FOR JUVENILE COURT

Alter Retained as Chief Probation Officer; Mrs. Ella Thibaut Assistant

Appointment of V. H. Alter as chief probation officer and Mrs. Ella Thibaut, as assistant probation officer, in the Marion county juvenile court, was made today by Judge Gast, judge-elect of the probate and juvenile courts.

Alter, who lives at 615 Mt. Vernon st., has served as chief probation officer of the court for nearly eight years. He received his appointment from Louis B. McNeil, the retiring judge of the probate and juvenile courts.

Mrs. Thibaut, of Green Camp, has been associated with juvenile and corrective organizations the last seven years. She has served two years as assistant matron of the Marion county children's home, one year at the girls' industrial school at Delaware, and four years at a girls' training school at Adrian, Mich.

Gast and his corps of assistants will take office Feb. 9. H. H. Hines, chief of the probate court, and Miss Margaret Carleton, second deputy of the probate court.

Ruth Breaks Down, Sobs Like Child As He Kneels at Bier of His Dead Wife

Pays Midnight Visit to Home of Mrs. Ruth's Mother; Is Broken, Crushed Figure from Greatest Tragedy of His Life

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—(Trans.)—Strained down the grief-stricken face of "Babe" Ruth as he stood in a driving snowstorm in Old Calvary cemetery today and watched the while enshrouded in the body of his wife, Helen Woodford Ruth, slowly lowered into her grave.

"Lord have mercy on her soul," he prayed, his mouth quivering with emotion.

The stooped shoulders of the world-famous ball player sagged, and he seemed to be on the verge of collapse. He was hunched in a crouched little group of his wife's relatives, most of whom were sobbing with emotion.

The stooped shoulders of the world-famous ball player sagged, and he seemed to be on the verge of collapse. He was hunched in a crouched little group of his wife's relatives, most of whom were sobbing with emotion.

She lay there, white and peaceful, her jet black hair resting on a snow-white pillow. At each end of her casket were two tall candles whose flickering lights, pointing upward, cast their reflections upon the grief-stricken face of the kneeling man.

The fact that Babe Ruth became blind, ordinary George Ruth—more than a broken, crushed figure, touched deeply by the greatest tragedy of his life.

Even in this hour of his supreme sorrow, the glare of the spotlight that seems always to have been Ruth's, caught him as he stepped from a closed limousine to enter the modest frame dwelling which is the home of his unfortunate wife's mother.

Kneels at Casket

It was exactly midnight. Booming headlights lit up the darkened street as the car crunched by a stop in the snow, and Ruth, dressed in a black overcoat and black hat, slowly emerged. He jumped nervously as the flashlight went off.

Slowly Ruth made his way into the "Tomb to Face"

OFFICIALS TO PLAN COUNTY ROAD WORK

Commissioners and Surveyor Prepare for Preliminary Survey for Year

Marion county's road program for 1929 will be mapped out by the board of county commissioners and the county surveyor within the next two weeks. If weather conditions permit, commissioners stated today.

The officials will follow the plan of former years in making an extensive survey of road needs of the county before outlining the work for the year. The survey will take from a week to 10 days, it is said.

It is unlikely that any provisions for elimination of railroad grade crossings will be included in the road program for the year, members of the board of county commissioners pointed out today.

The first part of the survey of the present part of Marion county makes it exceedingly difficult and expensive to eliminate crossings. In practically all cases roads and railroads are on the same level, making it necessary to build expensive viaducts or tunnels under the steam tracks.

There is only one case in the county where there is sufficient difference in road and railroad levels to aid materially in eliminating crossings, the commissioners say.

The commissioners have appropriated $250,000 for roads and bridges in the county this year.

First Anniversary Event on Tonight

Junior C. of C. Completes Plans for Banquet at Hotel Harding

The Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce will celebrate the first anniversary of its founding with a dinner at the Hotel Harding at 7 o'clock tonight. The dinner will be informal, officers said today, and will be featured by installation of officers for 1929.

The new officers to be installed are Kenneth Clutter, president, Charles Whysall, first vice president, Carroll Kerr, second vice president, and Ray Lehner, secretary and treasurer. The retiring officers are Rhu Cheney, president, Paul Piersol, vice president, and Clutter, secretary and treasurer.

The speaker will be Edwin H. Tiemeyer, of Cincinnati. Tiemeyer addressed the Junior Chamber at its first annual dinner last year. He is a member of the organization, a past director of the organization, a past president of the Cincinnati chapter, and a member of the state coordinating committee. Tiemeyer will be accompanied here by four other members of the Cincinnati organization.

The directors who will take office tonight are the four executive officers and Rhu Cheney, Clarence Boyd and Wendell Wiant.

NO SPECIAL HOUSE

Curtis To Occupy Suite in Washington Hotel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Once again it seems the movement to install the vice-president in a special home in a fashion similar to that in which the president occupies the White House has been forestalled.

Vice President-elect Curtis, it was learned today, is moving into a 10-room suite at the Mayflower hotel with every apparent intention of remaining there throughout his incumbency.

In recent years there has been considerable agitation to have a special house provided. Mrs. John B. Henderson, local society leader, several times even has offered the government to have a home on 10th st. belonging to her, but congress has declined to accept it. Both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover have favored the idea.

PHONE VALUATION DEFINITELY FIXED

State Commission Refuses To Alter Figure in Local Rate Controversy

The valuation of $1,170,257 placed upon the property of the Marion County Telephone Co. must stand, according to a ruling announced yesterday by the state public utility commission.

The valuation of the commission, made May 1, 1925, has been contested by the company. Early announcement of the commission's decision in the local telephone rate controversy is expected to be issued soon as a result of the valuation ruling.

The valuation was fixed after a protest against the new rate schedule was filed by the city of Marion. The contested rates are not being collected under bond filed by the company to guarantee refund in the event that the rates are finally set aside.

CALLIPOLIS MAN ROBBED

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—O. W. Sweeney, Callipolis, was held up and robbed of $500 in cash here late yesterday, according to his report to police today.

Two bandits confronted the Callipolis man at Springfield and East Columbus, and forced him to walk down Pearl st. to a deserted alley, where they robbed him of his money, he told police.

Sweeney is stopping at the Northern hotel here.

The committee is investigating the advisability of putting the honor system plan for examinations into effect in the College of Law at the university. Plans are now under way to place the system on trial in the freshmen class examination.

Mettler is a freshman in the College of Law. He was declared eligible to enter the college after completing the required amount of work in the College of Liberal Arts.

PLAN MEETING

Caledonia Standard Bearers To Be Hostesses to Class

CALLEDONIA, Jan. 17.—The Standard Bearer's Sunday school class, taught by Mrs. A. H. Glaze, was entertained by Miss Alma Lyon, at the home of Mrs. Wilber Mitchell, Monday night. Eight members responded to roll call. The president, Miss Alma Lyon, conducted the meeting, which was opened by singing, "Let the Lower Lights Keep Burning." Reading of the first chapter of Psalms was followed by repeating the "Lord's Prayer" in unison. Hope Underwood, Florence Kelley and Lucille Binker were appointed on the flower committee for the year, and Pauline Weaver and Alma Lyon will serve on the program committee for the next meeting.

It was decided to extend an invitation to Mr. Shumaker's class of young men to meet with the Standard Bearers at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Hope Underwood with Pearl Wood and Lucille Binker as assistant hostesses. A question box will be conducted by Mrs. Glaze. Miss Lyon, assisted by Mrs. Mitchell, served refreshments.

NO longer need a trim, slender figure be your envy. NO longer need you face the rigid requirements of harsh dieting methods. Overweight is banished when you banish fattening sweets and eating between meals and light a Lucky. "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

20,679 physicians have confirmed the fact that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. These professional men realize the value of toasting, the secret process that eliminates impurities and irritants. Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. And toasting develops a flavor which is a delightful alternative for fattening sweets.

Many prominent athletes testify that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. Men have long known this and practiced it successfully. These are the men who watch their health, who keep trim and fit, realizing the dangers of overweight. And now, women may enjoy a companionable smoke with their husbands and brothers—at the same time slenderizing in a sensible manner. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Death Claims 11 of Marion's G. A. R. Last 14 Months, Leaving 33 on Roll

Line of Blue" in Marion city and county is the oldest of its kind in the state, leaving behind it a record of 11 deaths in the last 14 months. The members of the G. A. R. are the last survivors of the original 21 charter members of the post.

Chartered Aug. 12, 1881, Cooper Post had a charter membership of 21 members. Col. George B. Christian is the last survivor of the original 21 charter members of the post.

Membership gradually rose to several hundred, decreasing during the years to 33 members at the present roll call.

Comrades who died during the last 14 months are: Schiller, Fogleson, John Haherman, Dr. George T. Harding, William Harrington, A. R. Hayes, Jacob Miller, Alfred Painter, C. E. Strout, J. W. Ward, G. W. Williams and Greenberry Willis.

J. S. Nebersall, of this city, is the oldest member of the post, 1836 being the year of his birth. David Seas, also of this city, is the next oldest, born in 1838.

The youngest member of the post is G. W. Poland, born in 1910, and now living in the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky.

Five of the members are from out-of-town. They are William Gahler and Charles Mosher, of Waldo; William Kinsman, of LaRue; and Harrison Kinsman and Nelson Myers, of California. Several of these out-of-town members are able to attend G. A. R. meetings once a year, but sickness and disability keep the others from attending at any time.

Attendance Small
Seven or eight of the members living in the city can be depended upon to attend the meetings, held the first Monday in the month during the winter season.

Small attendance here is generally due to sickness, disability, deafness or partial blindness. Several of the members are active men, but on account of deafness do not care to attend the meetings.

The Commander Charles Wiley, says that as far as reports show, none of the 33 members are bedfast, and only one is in a wheel chair. This man is Comrade John Backler, who fell some time ago, injuring his hip.

Enthusiasm and plans for a "grand reunion" are being made by the active members, who are planning to attend the state encampment at Findlay in June.

Cooper Relief Corps No. 104, has been founded more than 45 years, and is the only auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic. Local membership now reaches 88.

THE problem of watching accessories that haven't been matched before becomes more and more difficult as time goes on. The newest combination is to carry perhaps a large jade green handkerchief with a jade cigarette holder. Of course, one's vanity and elegant case should also be of jade.

Another idea is that of matching a spangled evening cap and jacket with a purse. And if one follows the ankle sock into the evening mode, where the manufacturers are attempting to put it, the socks should match the rest of the accessories. Tanned legs go with the evening ankle sock, naturally.

ROHE OPENS SERIES OF TALKS ON RADIO

Senator from This District To Be Heard Weekly
from WAU

Senator Robert L. Rohe, of Tiffin, member of the state senate from the district which includes Marion, last night gave the first of a series of weekly radio talks which he will deliver at Columbus during the present legislative session. His talks, each lasting 15 minutes and broadcast Wednesday nights from station WAU, will deal entirely with proceedings of the legislature.

Senator Rohe gave a similar series of addresses over the air last year, being the first Ohio legislator to be assigned to broadcasting.

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough
In a Hurry

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system generally to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any drugist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Put this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes away the inflammation. At the same time it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

You cannot be attractive without a clear skin

EVERYBODY wants to be attractive. It is a great and just ambition. But no one can be attractive without a clear skin—you know that. Do you realize the importance of pure, rich blood in preserving the health, and that the source of most skin disorders is in the blood? Remove the cause, which is not in the skin itself, and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear. You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs, and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world. Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy. All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body. For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief to thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

FUTURE-OF-SMITH MYSTERY UNSOLVED

Former Governor in Radio Talk Urges Party To Continue Fight

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The position of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith with regard to the future leadership of the Democratic party remained a mystery today to many political observers who sought to find an answer to the question in his address over the radio last night. In a speech broadcast over 21 stations the Democrat who was defeated for the presidency last November urged the party to "continue the fight for Democratic principles," but did not reveal his own plans except to say that he would be heard on the radio from time to time.

Some observers, however, saw in the latter statement an indication that the former governor intended to remain in the political limelight. Asserting that a militant party organization must be organized and that it must "stay on the job constantly instead of functioning only six months in four years," Smith advanced a plan to provide money for this purpose as well as to wipe out the $1,500,000 deficit in the Democratic campaign fund. He asked for contributions from the rank and file and announced that for every contribution of $2 or more the Democratic national committee will send the donor a book containing copies of his campaign speeches. The book is illustrated with campaign photographs.

To allow a small group of wealthy men to meet the deficit would place too much power in the hands of a few, the speaker warned.

His own contribution, he said, would be a forfeiture of royalties which publishers had offered him for publication of the speeches in book form.

Democratic leaders praised the plan and predicted that contributions from the rank and file would mount to a considerable total. One contribution of $25 was promised by the Rev. Hockway, N. Y., Democratic club only 15 minutes after the former governor had completed his speech.

JACOBY AGAIN HEADS STATE COMMITTEE

Appointed To Direct Legislative Work of Ohio Realtors' Association

J. W. Jacoby, Marion realtor and attorney, will again head the legislative committee of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, according to announcement made at Columbus today by Don G. Boyd, of Dayton, now president of the state association.

Jacoby has been chairman of the committee, one of the most important in the state organization, for several years and under his leadership it has been instrumental in bringing about adoption of several outstanding legislative measures.

In the complete list of committees announced by President Boyd, it. T. Lewis of Marion is named as a member of the standard forms committee.

Associated with Mr. Jacoby on the legislative committee will be W. H. Dyer of Cincinnati, Louis A. Moses, of Cleveland, L. T. Palmer, of Middletown, L. C. Price, of Toledo, W. W. Wheaton, of Columbus, F. S. Finkel, of Lima, V. D. Emmons, of Akron, and Arthur P. Young, of Portsmouth.

John E. McCrohen, of Columbus, has been named chairman of the taxation committee.

Boyd was installed president of the state association at a meeting held in Columbus this week. A delegation of local realtors attended.

Who's Your Grocer?

Not a personal question, but one which should give you deep study. Are you unwittingly trading at foreign controlled concerns, who send your money out of town the same day you spend it, or are you patronizing home industries, whose money goes into the county and buys treasures, pay salaries, build schools, churches and public institutions, pave streets, contribute to our Community Chest, without getting "authorization" from out-of-town millionaires, who sometimes do and sometimes don't? Are you with the great mass of people, who "buy in Marion" and who are always willing to help boost our city, and make it a better and more pleasant place to live? If so, remember this cannot be done by having your money sent out of town. Help Marion grow by trading at a See-U-We Market and keep the money at home.

Program Given at Seaton of Waldo School Organization

A regular meeting of the Waldo Parent-Teachers' association was held Tuesday night in the Waldo high school auditorium with the president, Mrs. C. W. Ulmer, in charge.

After the singing of "America," led by Mrs. K. W. Porenz, the invocation was given by the Rev. H. P. Daugherty. Following the business session, two numbers, "The Three Fishermen" and "Peter and His Teacher-father" were sung by the Bethlehem George Glee club, directed by Mrs. Porenz and given by James McKemie, Fred Wilson, John Snyder, Howard Miller, Bernard Lauer, Edwin Baker, Ralph Gerber, Carl Berlinger and Oscar Augenstein. Rev. H. P. Daugherty delivered an address on "Cooperation."

The meeting closed with two appropriate numbers, "The Lode" sung by Mrs. K. W. Porenz and "That Flu Stuff," a recitation by Miss Ruth Fogle. A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served.

WEIGHT-LIFTER

WAS STRICKEN
FINDS HEALTH

Veteran Car Inspector For Pennsylvania Lines Lauds Powers of The New Konjola

MR. ALBERT J. ANDERSON

The remarkable health-restoring powers of Konjola, the new medicine, are demonstrated daily by its triumphs over those stubborn cases that have baffled all efforts for relief.

A striking example of the superiority of Konjola is found in the statement of Mr. Albert J. Anderson, 925 Spencer street, Ashtabula, Ohio, formerly a professional weight-lifter of amazing strength. In 1911 his health failed. He said:

"In 1911 I was stricken with indigestion, neuritis and affection of the sciatic nerve. I tried everything, and nothing helped me. I was about to give up hope, when Konjola was recommended by a fellow-employee, who urged me not to delay a day in starting on Konjola. From the very start of the treatment I had results, and as the days passed the indigestion disappeared, the neuritis pains grew fainter, the sciatic nerve was normal again, and today I am in perfect health. No one can realize what this recovery meant to a man who was so strong some years ago that he thought he never could take ill. Konjola is little short of wonderful for it took just three bottles of this amazing medicine to end disease that held me in its clutches for seventeen years."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of this Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experiences with this new medical compound, until now, Konjola is the most highly laudatory medicine that is known in this section.

Konjola is sold in Marion at Stump & Sams Pharmacy and by all the best druggists throughout this section.—Adv.

Church Training School to Start Here Jan. 28

The Marion County and the Ohio Councils of Religious Education will conduct a Marion County standard training school for church school workers of all denominations at the First Presbyterian church, Jan. 28 to Feb. 1. The school will be conducted according to the standards of the International Council of Religious Education and will be in charge of competent teachers.

A mass meeting of all those enrolling will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 27 to 2:30 o'clock in the church, in order that the students may meet the teachers, receive assignments for the opening session Monday night, complete registration and attend to other business of the school.

The class schedule for the five-night session will be as follows: 7:00-7:59 o'clock, class session; 7:59-8:19 o'clock, assembly for worship; 8:19-9:00 o'clock, class session.

The registration fee is $1, to cover expenses of the school. The council has advised that if it is at all possible, each church should pay for those enrolling from its school.

Four courses have been outlined.

including the "Principles of Teaching," with the Rev. Frank A. Shultz as superintendent, "Teaching Work of the Church," under the direction of the Rev. Maxwell Hall, general secretary, Washington Council of Religious Education, "The Life of Christ," with the Rev. John A. Carraker, pastor Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, in charge, and "Story Telling in Religion" with Mrs. R. M. Sandy, superintendent of Children's Division, Ohio Council of Religious Education, as teacher.

The course offered cover a wide field of religious education. Each student may take but one of the courses and the council has urged that the student take the one most needed.

Where the Radio Falls Down.

When radio broadcasters enter the news field and attempt to inform the public of current happenings there should be scrupulous care taken to determine authenticity of whatever is put on the air. But here in Ohio in recent days there has been a lament violation of this fundamental rule governing dissemination of news.

In four separate instances, on four consecutive days, a radio station has broadcast that the boy mysteriously missing from his Orrville home has been found. This was embellished with details of his physical condition, where he was discovered and how, and other matters pertinent to such an important bit of news.

But it so happens there was no foundation in fact for these broadcasts. The station which put that information on the air apparently accepted as authentic report some piece of gossip which was brought in. No attempt, apparently, was made to verify the stuff before it was handed the listeners in.
Thus the radio became active party to a cruel deception—a housing of the public.

It is a cardinal principle in every newspaper office where the truth is at all considered, that rumors of this sort must be absolutely authenticated before they are published. If this rule were not followed every newspaper in the land would be only a sheet disseminating idle gossip—the kind of gossip which is harmful to business and social life in the community where it is published.

If the newspapers are so careful about their facts, it naturally follows that the radio, when it dips into the news field, should be at least careful enough to know whether a story is true or false. But radio announcers, unfortunately—or perhaps it is fortunate for the public—are not newspaper men. Facts mean little, if anything, to them. They accept rumor for fact and broadcast it. And let it go at that. No attempt is made to rectify a mistake. The public has to turn to the newspapers to determine the truth of the report brought to it through the receiver.

It is a compliment to the newspapers that the public reposes this confidence in them.
And it is uncomplimentary to the radio that such a condition exists. But it is the fault of the radio stations and announcers themselves, a condition they brought upon themselves and a condition which is working irreparable harm to them.

The public need have little fear of the variety of its newspapers. But it has every reason to be skeptical of anything which may be broadcast through radio stations as news.

Setting Type by Wire.

The Teletype, a device by which dispatches may be transmitted over a wire, transferred directly to typesetting machines without manual assistance and recorded in lines of type, which was demonstrated in a Rochester, New York, newspaper office recently, may not simplify newspaper making so greatly as those who read of the demonstration may have imagined.

A report of the demonstration sets out that, while the sender of the messages was in the same room with the two machines on which the lines of type were set, the short wire over which the messages were sent was made equivalent by resistance coils to a distance of 140 miles.

The expert operating the sending machine punched a narrow tape which operated the teletype wire by sending impulses corresponding to the holes in the tape. At the receiving end an instrument a little larger than a typewriter produced a punched tape exactly similar to the sending tape. This receiving tape then ran automatically through a small electrical machine on a stand beside the type-setting machine. The little machine once more translated the tape holes into electrical impulses.

The electric waves were carried by a wire to an apparatus roughly resembling a large human hand, fastened to the side of the type-setting machine. Each metal finger controlled a number of letters and characters of the typesetting machine, which it released according to the impulse received, and when it gave the release signal the typesetting machine functioned exactly as if a human operator had pressed down the key for a letter or character.

One sending can operate an indefinite number of typesetting machines, either in the same room or in cities far apart. A receiving printer is provided, that, without interfering with the automatic typesetting, enables an editor to read what is coming over the wire.
The teletypewriter stops automatically the moment anything stops the typesetting machine it feeds.

The objection to the device from a newspaper standpoint is that it will not permit of the editing of copy. Matter transmitted over the line by it and transferred to the type-setting machines will come out in slugs just as sent. It would mean also a standardization of the appearance of papers and a standardization in style, all receiving the service capitalizing, punctuating and spelling alike, which hardly any two do. One unacquainted with the newspaper business can hardly realize how difficult it is to make necessary alterations in typewritten copy.
To be forced to make them in metal would add mightily to that difficulty.

It is claimed that the teletype is of special value in transmitting market reports, and that it will save book publishers from trying up large quantities of metal in plates, both of which claims for it are understandable, but it is safe to figure that it will be some time before it comes into general use for the setting up of general news matter.

It develops that the pretty young Illinois girl, who last November spent her sixty days in jail over in England, has been married for something like fifteen years, the last seven of which have been spent wandering over the world.

"The sphere of religion," remarks the Rev.

of a joyride the world shall take." Some of Vagrant Verse.

TO HER SON.

(On His Coming of Age.)

There is no deed now for the written word.
Henceforth I live in you.
In you I find the blossom and the fruit.
In you I reap the harvest of the years.

There is no need for poems any more.
You are the ultimate poem of my life.
All golden words run over on your lips.
Let me keep silent now.

My child, my son, bright spirit, singing star,
Let my small light set tranquilly in you.
God has set down His mark on your brow.
Your hand is shaken curiously and well.
Meet, yet and mellow answer to your touch
As the late answers when you pluck its strings.
The lute that is my heart.

O son, my beautiful and shining boy,
Let me now dwell apart and rest a while.
We seek no more when that we sought is found.

Let me be still now. Let me trim the lamp
And brew the bowl of welcome for your lips.
Let us hand down the chisel and the stone,
And sit, as once you in the deepening night,
And stave our lives with beauty, and the hand
That fashions beauty, knowing well her face.

Let me forget the foolish little world.
There is a world for me, to many years.
So many heavy years have passed by
And let their burden be my open door.
I do not care for baubles. The hour is come When man shall stand and say, Behold this man!

What beauty he hath wrought! And I shall know.
Like a crowned queen before their wondering eyes
And say, He is my son.

ECONOMY TO THE LAST.

The Sufferer of Dysentery.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

At all seasons of the year, although more frequently in summer, of course, diarrhoea and dysentery used to be common ailments. Fortunately for us, modern medicine has banished from most communities the serious and fatal dysenteries. They are rare in the Northern States, but are not in the South, in Cuba and in the island countries.

This disease is ushered in with diarrhoea, pain and fever. There is great straining and urging, blood and mucus may be passed from the bowel.
The fever steadily increases till it reaches 101 or 102 degrees.

The patient gives evidence of being very sick.
He may grow delirious and, unless well treated,
may even die from the effects.

This is a picture of the acute form. There is also another form, lasting for weeks or even months. In the latter variety the patient becomes little more than skin and bones.

All dysenteries, regardless of the form, are characterized by continual draining water, by mucus, and by other infected foods. Human carriers have transmitted it and possibly insects are carriers of dysentery.

Every community should make sure that its water and milk supplies are pure. No greater blessing can be given a people than the assurance of protection in these essentials. Every food handler should be in perfect health, and no exposed food should be sold unless it is of such a nature as to require cooking before serving.

If any doubt exists as to the purity of the water,
it should be boiled and cooled before drinking.
Never take a chance on bad water. Never take a chance on bad food.

The patient with dysentery should be isolated and all his discharges destroyed. In any form rest and absolute quiet are essential. Warmth of the body is important.

Very simple food should be given. Barley water, white of egg, gruel and whey are all right. Small quantities of water, long enough to relieve the thirst, may be administered.

If there is much pain hot compresses to the abdomen will help. Rectal injections of bicarbonate of soda solution, a tablespoonful to a pint of warm water may promote a comfort.

Needless to say, any form of dysentery requires the early and constant care of a wise doctor.
Diarrhoea may be treated for home measures, but dysentery is too profound a disease to be temporarily warded off or neglected.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

R. M. Q.—Will decayed teeth—if they do not cause annoyance, be detrimental to the health?
2.—Is it injurious to take an internal bath or enema once every two weeks?

A.—If they are decayed they should be removed.
They may be the cause of infection in the system.
2.—The habit of taking enemata indiscriminately should be discouraged. They are very weakening.
Your doctor will advise you when such treatment is necessary. Watch your diet, take plenty of exercise and you will not have to resort to other means to keep the system clear. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MONTGOMERY.

New York, Jan. 17.—Precious jewels rarely have a fixed price. They are worth whatever the highest bidder will pay, and his bid of sale is a working basis for the price in the next sale. A big square diamond in the Diamond Jim Brady collection sold for $13,000.

Mr. Brady had purchased it for $8,000.
The last purchaser has refused $16,000 for it. Thus it goes. There is a true story going the rounds of diamond merchants illuminating the idea. It concerns the neat coup of a New York dealer.

He had with great care assembled a string of twelve emeralds at a cost of $40,000 and after offering it in the various markets, discovered he had a "white elephant" on hand.
Special gems that do not have a ready sale acquire a trade name. Such news circulates in the district.

In his dilemma the owner consulted an able advertising specialist who, after considering the matter, advised: "Let me write a ponderous essay on emeralds in general and these in particular. We will engrave it on vellum, put it in a costly frame and send it out with the necklace."

The jeweler, grasping at the proverbial straw, consigned with little hope of success and the necklace and the description were sent first to a nearby jeweler in Philadelphia.
The next morning the Philadelphia merchant telephoned rather eagerly to know the price.

The New York jeweler took a long breath and decided on a low bid, and his $40,000 string was offered at $34,000. He expected, of course, to begin a game of bargaining. But the following day was utterly dumfounded with a telegram: "We'll buy." The sale was made.

A week later he saw the Philadelphia jeweler, who greeted him with a broad and knowing smile. "You thought you put over a fast one, didn't you?" he queried and added: "But we were not so slow. Your necklace has been sold to a Pittsburgh woman for $700,000." Selling jewelry must be more fun.

Skyscraper building is playing hob with the sedate private residence speakeasy in the "Fountain Forties." And a new hush but zoo is springing up way down by Brooklyn bridge. Drah old buildings are rented cheap and their interiors are touched up with a flash splendor and the boys and girls are flooding there. The new note is private hookups where the hosts of vice affairs carry rest on top instead of under the table where many customers gather as the evenings lengthen.

Perhaps the world's greatest astrological business is carried on in the studio of Evangeline Adams in Carnegie hall. It is the Miss Adams and her staff of clairvoyants carry on the "personal appointment" and mail order business. What was believed to be a passing fad of the moment has stretched over several years and is not waning. Visitors are impressed with the statues of elephants all about the astrological parlors—some 1,000 from ancient statues and up to huge affairs, but they are not regarded as tokens of good luck.

Some one once sent her a jade elephant that pleased, others heard of it—hence the stampede.
Mrs. Adams is a rather motherly type with none of the professional manner of the seer. Many of her clients who appeal to her for advice and aid up to huge affairs, but her good common sense that they have in astrology. Wall Street operators are frequent patrons, as are many people in the arts. In her earlier days of a prophetic she was hailed to court several times, but never convicted.

And near Columbus circle is a block known as Portunus Teller's row. A strip of faded brick houses is filled with parlors of crystal gazers, phenologists, palmists and even dispensers of love philtres. The clients are mostly from the theatrical world, and next to them the chief interest is evidenced by race track followers and other gamblers.

There are readings from fifty cents to as high as $10. One of the popular fortune tellers is an ancient, coal-black negro woman who can not read or write, but predicts the future by studying coffee grounds. She foretold the violent death of a Broadway gambler three days before he was pistolled, and that has boosted her prestige anew.—Copyright, 1929,

CLEANUP NOT TO BE COMPULSORY, CLAIM

This Year's Borer Fight Will Be Investigation of Pest

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—Compulsory cleanup in the government's fight for control of the European corn borer will not be a part of this year's program. If recommendations of the joint committee on the European corn borer, made here during the third general conference on European corn borer research this month, is followed by the department of agriculture.

In Ohio this year's fight against the pest is to be an investigation centering about the relation of corn development to the abundance of the borer. It was declared by H. H. Huber, of Wooster, one of the representatives of the Buckeye state at the conference.

The joint committee named by the American Association of Economic Entomologists, the American Society of Agronomy, the American Society of Agricultural Engineers and the American Farm Economic Association will recommend a conditional appropriation to expand programs of research education and quarantine.

When advising against the enforcement of cleanup measures under present state laws the committee took the stand that a large federal appropriation for compulsory cleanup campaign was at this time inadvisable because of the break in the continuity of the campaign due to 1928 and the impossibility of obtaining an appropriation sufficient for this purpose.

Huber, in his report, declared that investigators in Ohio found a correlation between soil fertility and the abundance of the borer. He also pointed out the correlation between climate between vegetation types and between soil types and abundance. Therefore, he asserted the problem revolves about corn development which has a salient correlation with the abundance of the pest. The main research, Huber said, must be on nutrition.

J. S. Houser, Wooster, also took part in the discussion.

WATCH CARTELS, IS COMMERCE ADVICE

More Severe Competition from Abroad Expected During This Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—Despite the fact that in 1928 United States had its record peace-time foreign trade year, with exports of $5,129,000,000, commerce department of finance today urged the necessity of constant vigilance on the part of exporters in the scientific development of markets abroad and in fighting the competition of international cartels.

While confidence was expressed that 1929 will see another boom in foreign sales, which combined with purchasing abroad may mean a total of $10,000,000,000, more severe competition from European exporters, and especially the cartels, is anticipated.

In a report prepared by Dr. Julius Klein, director of foreign and domestic commerce, it was asserted that the foreign trade situation is characterized by competition more intense than ever before.

"We are feeling an intensity of effort in all parts of the world, by Germany particularly, and also by France, England and Italy, which is totally unlike the competitive situation at any time since the outbreak of the war," Klein said.

"The result of all that has been increasing difficulty in getting business and the need for increasing vigilance." Klein called attention to the fact that the international cartels, the post-war European competitive device, are spreading out over a number of industrial and commercial fields.

An Automobile Sale That Will Be Different

This sale will be handled somewhat like an auction sale, but still it will not be an auction.

Realizing that automobile sales slow up during the dead of winter has prompted us to try out this plan. If interest is shown in this sale you will greatly benefit by purchasing a car at a very low price. We believe that you will take advantage of this proposition at this time of year, so all we ask is that you come and bring a friend.

All of our cars will be placed so that you can look them over to best advantage. Our own salesmen will help you select a car and explain in detail about the cars. You pick out the car that you want to own and make us an offer, same as you would bid if the car were being auctioned off to highest bidder. We have marked all cars to rock bottom for this afternoon and evening, so if you make us an offer that we feel is fair, we will close the deal.

We are eliminating extra expense by handling the sale ourselves, so you will benefit in this saving. While cash is essential, it is not absolutely necessary if your credit is satisfactory. Yes, we will consider your own car in trade at its actual value.

The cars will be demonstrated and you pick out the one that you think will suit your needs in every respect. The car you purchase will either be guaranteed, or not guaranteed by the salesman closing the deal, this all depends on the car.

A good crowd at this sale will act with us the same as an appreciative crowd does to a theatre act. Bring your friends to our place and bring out the best prices.

Thanking you in advance for coming, we are

Yours for another car,

The Marion Buick Co.

P. S.—This sale will be held from 12:00 noon to 11:00 P. M. Saturday, January 19th, 1929.

GROUP WOULD STRIP SECRETARY OF POWER

McKellar of Tennessee Proposes To Turn Jurisdiction Over to Appeals Board

NAVY BILL IN AIR

Fight for Enactment Becomes Involved in Other Skirmishes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The administration's fight to enact the new cruiser bill became involved in the senate today with skirmishes over prohibition enforcement and tax refunds, in connection with the first deficiency appropriation bill.

The supply measure carried a $75,000,000 appropriation for payment of refunded taxes and a $25,000,000 increase in prohibition enforcement funds. Both items have roused considerable opposition, the insurgents charging the tax refunds were made secretly by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon while Mellon himself led the opposition to the increased dry appropriation.

The senate drags, led by Senator Harris, Democrat of Georgia, were confident of keeping the $25,000,000 item in the deficiency bill, despite Mellon's opposition. This little row threatened to assume considerable political importance, as it may alienate some of the dry Republican votes which will be necessary to confirm Mr. Mellon should the president-elect continue him in the next cabinet.

Would Take Away Power

The tax refund matter was a direct anti-Mellon move, as the battle revolved around the McKellar bill, which proposes to strip Mellon of all power over tax refunds in excess of $10,000. Heretofore, Mellon has been the judge and jury of all tax refunds and credits, although his decisions were subject to review by the board of tax appeals.

Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, proposed to turn original jurisdiction on all refunds above $10,000 over to the board of tax appeals. The senate judiciary committee has approved the bill.

"In six years, the treasury has refunded $2,614,000,000, with all of the evidence kept secret," said McKellar. This is more than the total cost of the Civil war on both sides. It is more than the total wealth of Alabama including every inch of real estate and every dollar of capital. It is more than the total wealth of Louisiana, including the great city of New Orleans. That one man should have such power does not make for good government. I am fighting such an ungovernable system because these refunds and credits are rendered secretly and that is not Democratic government."

Total $3,317,804,000

The refunds and credits, given out by the treasury department, it will be shown, have totaled $3,317,804,000 since the war—about one-seventh the total cost of the World war to America. This sum almost equals the British debt, does equal the French debt and is double the Italian debt to the United States.

With such statistics at their demand, the insurgents predicted they would strip Mellon of this great refund power. In the course of debate, there may be some interesting discussions of specific refunds, included in that three billion dollar total.

With the deficiency bill out of the way or sidetracked, debate will be resumed on the cruiser bill. The fate of the naval measure remains in doubt although it can command a majority in the senate if brought to a vote.

DECLARE OIL FIGHT NOT IN STOCK MART

"Move" in Indiana Shares Believed Due to Big Earnings of Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The bitterest factional fight in American industrial history, the fight to oust Robert W. Stewart from the chairmanship of the Standard Oil of Indiana board, will not be waged, and is not being waged in the stock market.

International News Service learned from unimpeachable sources today that the Stewart interests are not buying a share of Indiana stock in the open market. Despite the vigorous rally-bug that is being raised in parts of Wall Street, and on which Standard of Indiana has jumped about 12 points in the last two or three days, Stewart is holding aloof from the market, and standing pat, with his friends and supporters, on their holdings of stock, which they believe are sufficient to swing the vote to Stewart on March 7.

When Colonel Stewart was in New York last week, he brought with him the first drafts of 1935 earnings statement of the Indiana company, which he would have made public had he not learned, on his arrival here, of the launching of the Rockefeller attack against him. The Rockefeller household changed his plans somewhat, and within 24 hours he boarded the train for Chicago, taking all of his papers and projects to lay before Druggists—Adv.

Big "Silent" Vote

There is a big "silent vote" in the stock holdings of the Standard Oil Co. and upon the swaying of this vote will depend the outcome of the fight. Thousands of shares are locked up in strong boxes and safety deposit vaults, with the dust of decades upon them, proving having been put through as a matter of routine year in and year out. Here is where the big offensive will be concentrated, during the next six weeks, and hundreds of investors who have never given an annual meeting second thought will be swayed higher and you by rival forces seeking the privilege of voting their stock.

If Rockefeller is at this late date "carrying the fight to the stock market," picking up a few shares of Precautions against colds and "flu"

Do these two things:

1. Protect nose and throat
2. Keep system in good condition

There's no need to get panicky because the papers are full of news of an influenza epidemic. There's no use in isolating yourself because a lot of other people are sick with it. If you take two simple precautions every day—and then don't worry—the chances are you will throw off any cold or "flu" germs you are exposed to, and keep well.

We're not recommending that you dose yourself with a lot of medicines, either. Just observe two common-sense health rules which can be easily followed.

FIRST of all, make sure your system is in fine fettle. Don't let it get slowed up or sluggish. See to it that it functions perfectly. The safest way to get run down and in a condition to pick up disease is to neglect this all-important matter.

Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are therefore prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.

Nujol can't possibly upset you or disagree with you. For it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs.

Get a bottle today at your nearest drug store and start taking Nujol tonight as one simple way to keep fit and to protect yourself against influenza.

Take the first precaution. Now for the second. Keep your nose and throat well protected with Mistol.

Dr. David says:

"I'm advising all my patients these days to keep Mistol on hand and use it regularly. The first thing in the morning before you go out. And again at night when you come home. Don't be afraid to use it freely. It will do no harm. And then stop worrying. You've done all you can to safeguard yourself."

"Put Mistol up your nose. There's a special dropper that comes in every package that makes it very easy to use. Just tilt your head back and drop it in your nose until you feel it in your throat. You'll notice the pleasant, cleansing effect at once. Mistol clears your head and makes breathing easy. It has a healing, soothing effect on the membranes and relieves any irritation or inflammation. It helps dry up a running nose. Use it, too, as a gargle. Mistol is good for a sore throat or hacking cough. And above all, protects the nose and throat against germs."

"Don't wait till you begin to sneeze or your throat aches. Take my advice and get a bottle of Mistol today. Every druggist knows it."

The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against influenza. Start this wise two-fold precaution now. Don't delay.

Nujol and Mistol are both made by the same famous laboratories, of the finest quality materials and with the greatest skill possible. Both preparations are harmless. At all druggists. Aren't they worth trying?

Officers Are Installed by War Vets and Auxiliary

Union Meeting Held by Two Local Patriotic Organizations

Annual installation of officers of the War Veterans Auxiliary No. 18 and the Marion Camp No. 35, United Spanish War Veterans, was held at a joint meeting last night in Junior Order hall, with T. E. Andrews as installation officer for the auxiliary.

Department Commander Judge Charles Shuler of Bucarus assisted in the installation services and later gave a talk in the interests of the organization.

Camp Officers
 Sylvester I. Orla was installed as commander of Marion Camp No. 35, with the following staff of officers: John Noah, senior vice, Frank Lawrence, junior vice, E. R. Bondler, adjutant, Lee Howison, quartermaster, W. T. Nide, trustee, F. L. Andrews, financial instructor, R. M. Miller, historian, L. L. Berr, chaplain, Thomas Glaze, officer of the day, Charles Quley, chief of the guard, J. M. May, senior color sergeant, Frank L. Feltre, chief musician.

The installation services last night marked the twentieth year of E. R. Bondler's service as adjutant and the fifteenth year in which Lee Howison has served the camp as quartermaster.

Auxiliary Heads
 Mrs. Gertrude Michaels of Waldo was installed as president of the auxiliary with the following staff: Mrs. Anna M. Rice, senior vice, Mrs. Anna M. Jones, junior vice, Mrs. Carl Howison, chairman, Mrs. Lila Gauder, secretary, Mrs. M. A. Doan, treasurer, Mrs. Dolle Anthony, conductor, Mrs. Emma Call, assistant conductor, Mrs. Mary Scott, Hoover patriotic instructor, Mrs. Emma Bauler, historian, Mrs. Hattie Mason, guard, Mrs. Nellie Glaze, assistant guard, Mrs. Fern, Michel, first trust, Mrs. Maule Glosser, Mrs. Emma Miley, Mrs. Ella Poland and Mrs. Elmer Morrison, color.

Mrs. Mary C. Muller, past president of the auxiliary, was presented a past president's jewel.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock preceding the installation program.

A regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held Friday afternoon Jan. 27.

FROZEN TO DEATH

Couple Found in Auto Along Country Road Near Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 17.—Funeral arrangements for Edward Price, 16, and Elizabeth Ayers, 10, who were found frozen to death in a small coupe along a country road near here yesterday, were being completed here today.

Death of the couple is believed to have been hastened by carbon in the outside gas.

When the couple failed to return home a search was started and the bodies were found in the auto on a rural isolated highway.

Police are conducting an investigation.

Instead of depending upon locks a German inventor proposes to move bolts in canals from one level to another by steel cages supported by overhead framework.

VARICOSE VEINS REDUCED Or Money Back

Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results

If you have varicose veins or lumps you can start today to bring them back to normal size and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moons' Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrates.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and in regular use will soon be gone to normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins or get rid of excruciating ulcers or phlebitis a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle of cure. It is such a powerful penetrating, anti-septic, all throat, small bottle lasts a long time. Your pharmacist can supply you. Henry & Cooper sell it to you.

HOOVER KEEPS MUM ON APPOINTMENTS

President-Elect Will Leave Monday for Florida, Month's Rest Ahead

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Herbert Hoover has about concluded the business that brought him to the capital this departure for Florida for a month of rest and reflection upon his cabinet choices is now set for Monday.

He will leave Washington with his notebooks crammed with data and suggestions that bear on everything from cabinet material to his unusual speech and future legislation.

The president-elect has cleared up an enormous amount of work in the nearly two weeks he has been here. He has settled the question of the extra session of congress. There is to be one starting in April. He has decided upon a thorough going fact finding investigation of prohibition by a committee of experts of his own choosing. He has outlined what he wants done concerning the inaugural ceremony. He has seen and conferred with upward of three hundred people, including nearly every Republican member of the senate and the chairman of all important committees of the house and there is reason to believe he has arrived at some fairly definite conclusions about some of the men he wants in his cabinet.

Waits Until March
 It is not likely, however, that there will be any announcement concerning cabinet choices until shortly before March 4.

A fair example of what might be expected if advance announcements are made occurred in the case of the Secretary of the Treasury Mellon the one member of the Coolidge cabinet that Washington considers is sure to go into the Hoover cabinet.

Within 24 hours after the publication of stories that Mellon would be retained protests began to roll into the Hoover offices in the May flower from those who are opposed to Mellon policies. The protest came by mail telegraph, and New York, New Republic, of North Dakota, and Senator Cramer, Republican of Michigan, protested in person.

Protest Donovan
 Published stories that William J. Donovan of New York is a likely selection for attorney general brought a similar flood of protests. Friends of Senator Wheeler Democrat, of Montana immediately attacked Donovan on the ground he "prose-cut the persecution of the Moon tin senator in relation of what Wheeler and to Henry M. Daugherty.

The instant dry protest that Donovan is not dry enough to be at home, general. The Ku Klux Klan protested that a Protestant must head the department of justice. Donovan is a Catholic.

For these reasons if for no other Mr. Hoover has decided to keep his own counsel concerning cabinet appointments until shortly before inquisition. Probably no appointment could be made that would not draw protests from some quarter and he considers it would be unfair to make targets of his friends and future allies.

This is as much a tale of laughter as it is a tale of tears. Take your choice.
